

April 15, 2010

STUDENTS OF GLADES MIDDLE SCHOOL teacher Isabelle Whitfield learned about the judiciary and their constitutional rights when Justice Fred Lewis, Justice Teaching volunteer Russell Spatz, above left, and Florida Law Related Education Association Executive Director Annette Boyd Pitts, above right, visited the Miami-Dade County school. Most of the student questions involved capital punishment, such as the method of execution and the procedure that is followed when a death warrant is signed. For more information about the Justice Teaching program visit www.justiceteaching.org.